Net income increased significantly for both the quarter and the last twelve months ("LTM"). The increase reflects improvements at existing operations as well as strong contributions from acquisitions across each of our businesses. We also recorded a higher level of valuation gains in our opportunistic real estate portfolio and a gain on the sale of a utility asset whereas the prior period included the impact of lower stock market prices on market-valued investments.

First quarter funds from operations ("FFO") also increased significantly to $1.2 billion, an increase of 74% from the prior year. Fee related earnings continue to increase as a result of the growth in fee bearing capital and higher performance fee income. This was due to fee bearing capital growth generated by both increases in new private fund capital and listed issuers. We received a performance fee from Brookfield Business Partners in the quarter as the partnership continues to exceed performance hurdles. The increased contribution from our invested capital reflects improved results across our businesses, including higher pricing in our renewable power and private equity operations. FFO included $473 million of disposition gains from assets sold, including the aforementioned utility asset and a partial sale of a core office property.

Dividend Declaration

The Board declared a quarterly dividend of US$0.15 per share (representing US$0.60 per annum), payable on June 29, 2018 to shareholders of record as at the close of business on May 31, 2018. The Board also declared all the regular monthly and quarterly dividends on its preferred shares.

Operating Highlights

Fee bearing capital reached $127 billion, a 12% increase over March 2017. Growth during this quarter was led by our private funds and our public securities businesses.

We continue to raise capital for our third real estate flagship fund, which is now over $9 billion after the first close. This already matches the total capital in the predecessor fund in that series, and we expect to raise substantial further capital throughout the remainder of 2018 to make this our largest real estate fund to date. As we continue to grow our private funds, our capital base is diversifying with increased commitments from clients outside of North America, and increased allocations from both public and private pension plans. We are also progressing significant initiatives with high net worth clients.

Our current private equity flagship fund is over 90% committed and invested and we launched the successor fund in the quarter, with a first close anticipated later in the year. Our latest infrastructure flagship fund is 50% committed and invested.

In addition to establishing new funds, we are also continuing to expand through targeted acquisitions and strategic partnerships. In our public securities business we completed the previously announced acquisition of an investment advisor with an established retail distribution network and $4 billion of fee bearing capital. We also recently announced the acquisition of a 25% strategic interest in a European alternative credit manager, expanding our reach in Europe, and broadening our credit platform scale and experience.

As our managed capital expands, ongoing fee related earnings and carry potential grow. Carry potential is also benefiting from our funds progressing into more mature phases of their lives.

Fee related earnings increased by 56% to over $1.0 billion over the LTM, attributable to new capital raised across multiple fund strategies and stronger market valuations of our listed partnerships. Earnings included performance fees of $143 million in the quarter from continued strong unit price performance by Brookfield Business Partners.

We also achieved growth in economic net income from our asset management activities, which more than doubled from the prior LTM period to $2.1 billion. Unrealized carried interest was $1.5 billion before costs, or $1.0 billion net of costs in the last twelve months, more than triple that of the prior period. The step-change is a result of our earlier vintage funds starting to generate significant amounts of carried interest for the first time. As our fund series have been growing and should continue to grow, we expect to see continued increases in carried interest, as carry eligible capital grows.

We continue to generate increasingly significant free cash at the corporate level. We receive significant cash flow from our asset management business as well as distributions from our invested capital, which adds to our robust liquidity profile.

On an annual basis, we receive approximately $1 billion in asset management fee related earnings and $1.5 billion of cash distributions from our invested capital annually based on our current profile. After paying approximately $500 million of interest expense, preferred share dividends and corporate costs, we are generating approximately $2 billion of cash flows before common share dividends that is available for distribution or reinvestment. We have few capital requirements at the corporate level and this positions us well to use our cash flow to support larger fund transactions, providing bridge capital, and seeding new fund products.

We have significant liquidity to deploy for future opportunities. This includes $22 billion of third-party private fund commitments and $10 billion of core liquidity.

We continue to focus on asset sales and capital structure in strong markets. We generated almost $500 million from disposition gains in the quarter.

In March, our infrastructure business closed the sale of a 28% interest in Transelec, a Chilean electricity transmission business with approximately 10,000 kilometers of lines. During our ownership, we re-invested capital within the business to expand and grow the system, and returned cash dividends to us and our partners of over $1 billion. Our infrastructure business sold its share of the investment for $1.3 billion ($390 million at BAM's share). BAM recognized a disposition gain of approximately $245 million in FFO on the sale.

Asset sales also included the sale of a 50% interest in the Bay Adelaide Centre West and East towers located in downtown Toronto for C$850 million. Brookfield developed both towers which were completed in 2009 and 2015, respectively, and with the sale has realized net proceeds of $292 million to BPY, and $164 million net to BAM. In April, our private equity business completed an IPO of GrafTech, selling an approximate 13% interest in the company for gross proceeds of $571 million, and in February, we completed a $1.5 billion refinancing of GrafTech which resulted in a $1.1 billion dividend to us and our partners. We have now returned 2.1x our invested capital, and still own approximately 87% of GrafTech's equity and a $750 million promissory note.

Basis of Presentation

This news release and accompanying financial statements are based on International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"), unless otherwise noted.

We make reference to Funds from Operations ("FFO"). We define FFO as net income attributable to shareholders prior to fair value changes, depreciation and amortization, and deferred income taxes, and include realized disposition gains that are not recorded in net income as determined under IFRS. FFO also includes the company's share of equity accounted investments' FFO on a fully diluted basis. FFO consists of the following components:

- FFO from Operating Activities represents the company's share of revenues less direct costs and interest expenses; excludes realized carried interest and disposition gains, fair value changes, depreciation and amortization and deferred income taxes; and includes our proportionate share of FFO from operating activities recorded by equity accounted investments on a fully diluted basis. We present this measure as we believe it assists in describing our results and variances within FFO.
- Realized Carried Interest represents our contractual share of investment gains generated within a private fund after considering our clients minimum return requirements. Realized carried interest is determined on third-party capital that is no longer subject to future investment performance.
- Realized Disposition Gains are included in FFO because we consider the purchase and sale of assets to be a normal part of the company's business. Realized disposition gains include gains and losses recorded in net income and equity in the current period, and are adjusted to include fair value changes and revaluation surplus balances recorded in prior periods which were not included in prior period FFO.

We use FFO to assess our operating results and the value of Brookfield's business and believe that many shareholders and analysts also find this measure of value to them.

We note that FFO, its components, and its per share equivalent are non-IFRS measures which do not have any standard meaning prescribed by IFRS and therefore may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies.

We make reference to Economic Net Income ("ENI"). We use ENI as a supplement to FFO for our Asset Management segment to assess operating performance, including the fee revenues and carried interest generated on unrealized changes in value of our private fund investment portfolios. We use this measure to evaluate the total value created within our funds in a period and it is a leading indicator for future growth of our Asset Management FFO.

We make reference to Invested Capital. Invested Capital is defined as the amount of common equity in our segments and underlying businesses within the segments.

We make reference to cash flows before common share dividends that is Available for distribution or reinvestment. It is the sum of our Asset Management segment FFO and distributions received from our ownership of listed investments, net of Corporate FFO and preferred share dividends. This provides insight into earnings received by the corporation that are available for distribution to common shareholders or to be reinvested into the business.

We also make reference to Unrealized Carried Interest, which represents our share of fund profits if all of our funds were wound up and liquidated at period end values. We use this measure to gain additional insight into how investment performance is impacting our ability to earn carried interest in the future.

We provide additional information on key terms and non-IFRS measures in our filings available at www.brookfield.com.

Net income increased significantly for both the quarter and the last twelve months ("LTM"). The increase reflects improvements at existing operations as well as strong contributions from acquisitions across each of our businesses. We also recorded a higher level of valuation gains in our opportunistic real estate portfolio and a gain on the sale of a utility asset whereas the prior period included the impact of lower stock market prices on market-valued investments.

First quarter funds from operations ("FFO") also increased significantly to $1.2 billion, an increase of 74% from the prior year. Fee related earnings continue to increase as a result of the growth in fee bearing capital and higher performance fee income. This was due to fee bearing capital growth generated by both increases in new private fund capital and listed issuers. We received a performance fee from Brookfield Business Partners in the quarter as the partnership continues to exceed performance hurdles. The increased contribution from our invested capital reflects improved results across our businesses, including higher pricing in our renewable power and private equity operations. FFO included $473 million of disposition gains from assets sold, including the aforementioned utility asset and a partial sale of a core office property.

Dividend Declaration

The Board declared a quarterly dividend of US$0.15 per share (representing US$0.60 per annum), payable on June 29, 2018 to shareholders of record as at the close of business on May 31, 2018. The Board also declared all the regular monthly and quarterly dividends on its preferred shares.

Operating Highlights

Fee bearing capital reached $127 billion, a 12% increase over March 2017. Growth during this quarter was led by our private funds and our public securities businesses.

We continue to raise capital for our third real estate flagship fund, which is now over $9 billion after the first close. This already matches the total capital in the predecessor fund in that series, and we expect to raise substantial further capital throughout the remainder of 2018 to make this our largest real estate fund to date. As we continue to grow our private funds, our capital base is diversifying with increased commitments from clients outside of North America, and increased allocations from both public and private pension plans. We are also progressing significant initiatives with high net worth clients.

Our current private equity flagship fund is over 90% committed and invested and we launched the successor fund in the quarter, with a first close anticipated later in the year. Our latest infrastructure flagship fund is 50% committed and invested.

In addition to establishing new funds, we are also continuing to expand through targeted acquisitions and strategic partnerships. In our public securities business we completed the previously announced acquisition of an investment advisor with an established retail distribution network and $4 billion of fee bearing capital. We also recently announced the acquisition of a 25% strategic interest in a European alternative credit manager, expanding our reach in Europe, and broadening our credit platform scale and experience.

As our managed capital expands, ongoing fee related earnings and carry potential grow. Carry potential is also benefiting from our funds progressing into more mature phases of their lives.

Fee related earnings increased by 56% to over $1.0 billion over the LTM, attributable to new capital raised across multiple fund strategies and stronger market valuations of our listed partnerships. Earnings included performance fees of $143 million in the quarter from continued strong unit price performance by Brookfield Business Partners.

We also achieved growth in economic net income from our asset management activities, which more than doubled from the prior LTM period to $2.1 billion. Unrealized carried interest was $1.5 billion before costs, or $1.0 billion net of costs in the last twelve months, more than triple that of the prior period. The step-change is a result of our earlier vintage funds starting to generate significant amounts of carried interest for the first time. As our fund series have been growing and should continue to grow, we expect to see continued increases in carried interest, as carry eligible capital grows.

We continue to generate increasingly significant free cash at the corporate level. We receive significant cash flow from our asset management business as well as distributions from our invested capital, which adds to our robust liquidity profile.

On an annual basis, we receive approximately $1 billion in asset management fee related earnings and $1.5 billion of cash distributions from our invested capital annually based on our current profile. After paying approximately $500 million of interest expense, preferred share dividends and corporate costs, we are generating approximately $2 billion of cash flows before common share dividends that is available for distribution or reinvestment. We have few capital requirements at the corporate level and this positions us well to use our cash flow to support larger fund transactions, providing bridge capital, and seeding new fund products.

We have significant liquidity to deploy for future opportunities. This includes $22 billion of third-party private fund commitments and $10 billion of core liquidity.

We continue to focus on asset sales and capital structure in strong markets. We generated almost $500 million from disposition gains in the quarter.

In March, our infrastructure business closed the sale of a 28% interest in Transelec, a Chilean electricity transmission business with approximately 10,000 kilometers of lines. During our ownership, we re-invested capital within the business to expand and grow the system, and returned cash dividends to us and our partners of over $1 billion. Our infrastructure business sold its share of the investment for $1.3 billion ($390 million at BAM's share). BAM recognized a disposition gain of approximately $245 million in FFO on the sale.

Asset sales also included the sale of a 50% interest in the Bay Adelaide Centre West and East towers located in downtown Toronto for C$850 million. Brookfield developed both towers which were completed in 2009 and 2015, respectively, and with the sale has realized net proceeds of $292 million to BPY, and $164 million net to BAM. In April, our private equity business completed an IPO of GrafTech, selling an approximate 13% interest in the company for gross proceeds of $571 million, and in February, we completed a $1.5 billion refinancing of GrafTech which resulted in a $1.1 billion dividend to us and our partners. We have now returned 2.1x our invested capital, and still own approximately 87% of GrafTech's equity and a $750 million promissory note.

Basis of Presentation

This news release and accompanying financial statements are based on International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"), unless otherwise noted.

We make reference to Funds from Operations ("FFO"). We define FFO as net income attributable to shareholders prior to fair value changes, depreciation and amortization, and deferred income taxes, and include realized disposition gains that are not recorded in net income as determined under IFRS. FFO also includes the company's share of equity accounted investments' FFO on a fully diluted basis. FFO consists of the following components:

- FFO from Operating Activities represents the company's share of revenues less direct costs and interest expenses; excludes realized carried interest and disposition gains, fair value changes, depreciation and amortization and deferred income taxes; and includes our proportionate share of FFO from operating activities recorded by equity accounted investments on a fully diluted basis. We present this measure as we believe it assists in describing our results and variances within FFO.
- Realized Carried Interest represents our contractual share of investment gains generated within a private fund after considering our clients minimum return requirements. Realized carried interest is determined on third-party capital that is no longer subject to future investment performance.
- Realized Disposition Gains are included in FFO because we consider the purchase and sale of assets to be a normal part of the company's business. Realized disposition gains include gains and losses recorded in net income and equity in the current period, and are adjusted to include fair value changes and revaluation surplus balances recorded in prior periods which were not included in prior period FFO.

We use FFO to assess our operating results and the value of Brookfield's business and believe that many shareholders and analysts also find this measure of value to them.

We note that FFO, its components, and its per share equivalent are non-IFRS measures which do not have any standard meaning prescribed by IFRS and therefore may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies.

We make reference to Economic Net Income ("ENI"). We use ENI as a supplement to FFO for our Asset Management segment to assess operating performance, including the fee revenues and carried interest generated on unrealized changes in value of our private fund investment portfolios. We use this measure to evaluate the total value created within our funds in a period and it is a leading indicator for future growth of our Asset Management FFO.

We make reference to Invested Capital. Invested Capital is defined as the amount of common equity in our segments and underlying businesses within the segments.

We make reference to cash flows before common share dividends that is Available for distribution or reinvestment. It is the sum of our Asset Management segment FFO and distributions received from our ownership of listed investments, net of Corporate FFO and preferred share dividends. This provides insight into earnings received by the corporation that are available for distribution to common shareholders or to be reinvested into the business.

We also make reference to Unrealized Carried Interest, which represents our share of fund profits if all of our funds were wound up and liquidated at period end values. We use this measure to gain additional insight into how investment performance is impacting our ability to earn carried interest in the future.

We provide additional information on key terms and non-IFRS measures in our filings available at www.brookfield.com.
